

What is a Franchise?

A franchise is an arrangement for the distribution of a product or service into the marketplace. At least two parties are involved; the Franchisor, who lends the Trademark and business system, and the Franchise Partner, who pays a fee to do business under the Franchisor's name and system. Technically, the contract binding the two parties is 'the franchise', but that term is often used to mean the actual business that the Franchise Partner operates under the Franchisor's system.

What do I get with my Homesafe Inspections franchise?

When you become an Homesafe Inspections Franchise Partner you have access to the Homesafe Inspections name, brand, concept, business systems, support and ongoing business development. You become part of the Homesafe Inspections network, sharing experiences, advertising costs, and benefiting from all our knowledge and developed skills for our industry. You are provided with everything that you need to commence trading.

Homesafe Inspections has a proven business model allowing us to offer unique services to our valued clients. You have a rare opportunity to benefit from the fully developed, succinct and systemised business package.

Will I be running my own business?

Yes. While franchising means you will never have to be in business by yourself, you certainly are in business for yourself!

You will have access to the Homesafe Inspections Support Team along with all aspects of the business model.

What background and experience do I need?

Aside from a genuine interest in the Homesafe Inspections concept, the right attitude is the most important asset that you can bring to the business and is what you need to be an Homesafe Inspections Franchise Partner. Experience in carpentry and building is required with either Cert 3 in carpentry or Cert 4 in building and construction

Does Homesafe Inspections provide training?

Yes, you will participate in our fully comprehensive training program in all aspects of our systems, and we will be providing you with additional support with those 'once off' activities which need to be done when you set up a new business. Our training is presented in a structured program, and we have checklists to make sure everything is covered.

You will be learning with the Homesafe Inspections Franchise Support Team, and you will also receive ongoing monitoring and support as you develop your individual Homesafe Inspections location.

The Homesafe Inspections Induction Training (initial training) will take about 2-4 weeks and you must be prepared to allocate your time to this. Homesafe Inspections will provide ongoing training according to your feedback and our interpretation of your needs.

How much capital will I need to invest in my business?

The total business opportunity could amount from $30K - $125K depending upon your individual circumstances. This amount provides for everything required to start the business. The Disclosure Document gives you all the details in a comprehensive manner including ongoing costs and other requirements.

What ongoing fees do I have to pay?

You pay an ongoing Service (13% Royalty) Fee for the use of the Homesafe Inspections name and system and with that comes a great deal of business advice and support.

Can I sell my Franchise?

Yes. The business is yours to build up and sell if you wish although Homesafe Inspections does need to approve the new Franchise Partner.

How long is my Franchise Agreement for?

It runs for 5 years. At the end of that time you will be able to renew for a further 5 years. 10 years in total. There is a Renewal Fee to cover legal costs. As our success is measured by your success, it is in our interest to ensure you stay with us for as long as you desire.

I am interested and I think I qualify, what do I do next?

Call Ryan at Homesafe Inspections and we will answer some basic questions to see if our business model appeals to you and see if you can imagine yourself building a great Homesafe Inspections business!

We will then ask you to complete our Confidentiality Agreement and Application Form

After the Application is in our hands, we will contact you and begin the process of taking you through a careful and detailed review of our existing business before you make any final decision.

At Homesafe Inspections, we welcome your inquiry and thank you for your interest in our business.
